You're invited | 28 November 2023

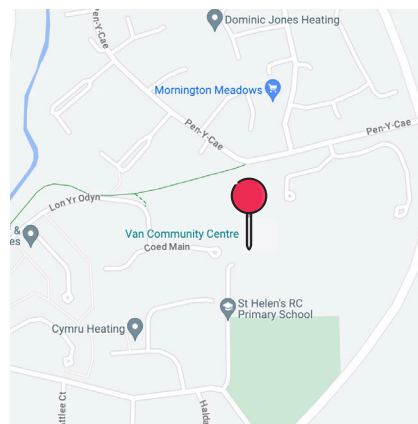

Your neighbourhood policing team in Bedwas and the chief constable of Gwent Police, Pam Kelly, invite you to the official launch of 'Llamas, litter picking and the mini police', an inspiring book written by schoolchildren from Lansbury Park!

Tuesday 28 November, 2.30pm – 4.30pm

The event celebrates the book, and will see the schoolchildren who helped write it, author Mike Church and Gwent officers come together for a fun-packed reading and conversation on how the book came to be.

Join us to hear more about the story of Rosie, a young schoolgirl who joins the mini police to find out more about the law and help her community, and then meet the author, officers and children who helped create it, and enjoy a range of refreshments.

Meet at: The Van Community Centre, Porset Park, Caerphilly CF83 2YD.
